

France Tries To Compromise Balkan Fight For UN Powers

By MAX HARRELSON

Lake Success, Sept. 29 (P)—France called on the United States today to withdraw demands that the United Nations Assembly find three Soviet Balkan satellites guilty of aggression against Greece.

In an avowed attempt to compromise the fight between Russia and the United States over the Balkan problem, French Minister of State Yvonne Delbos also appealed to the Soviet Union and its satellites to cooperate toward seeking a peaceful settlement.

Delbos spoke before the Assembly's 55-nation political committee after hearing Greece's Deputy Premier Constantine Tsaldaris declare Greece's northern neighbors—Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—are "boldly committing 'acts of aggression' while the U.N. seeks a solution."

Asks for "Toning Down"—Neither Secretary of State Marshall nor Andrei Y. Vishinsky chief Soviet delegate, was present to hear the French appeal. The United States was represented by Herschel V. Johnson and Russia by Andrei A. Gromyko.

Delbos announced he was submitting a proposal to tone down the United States demands for a finding of guilt. At the same time, he said France was ready to support the United States plan for a special Assembly commission to watch over the Balkan situation.

Tsaldaris told the General Assembly's 55-nation political committee that "at this very moment while we are considering this question, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia are sending into Greece arms and ammunition in increasing amounts and with ever increasing boldness."

Hear Greek Charges—He charged that the representatives of the Soviet bloc had not denied that they were sending aid to Greek guerrilla fighters, but instead had resorted to evasion and delaying tactics in an effort to becloud the issue.

"The simple fact remains, and it cannot be hidden by sophistry," Tsaldaris said, "that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have been, and they now are, arming bands for the purpose of destroying the political independence and the territorial integrity of Greece."

"No amount of polemics can hide the further fact that these are acts of aggression in violation of the law of nations and of the express and solemn covenants of our charter."

ALL NATIONAL CEMETERIES IN STATE ARE FULL

Not only the Gettysburg National cemetery, but all national cemeteries in Pennsylvania, have reached their capacity, the Associated Press quoted an army spokesman today as saying, in connection with the recent announcement that lack of space has made it necessary to limit to 600 the number of World War II dead to be buried here.

A spokesman for Quartermaster Corps of the army, which has charge of burials, said that Gettysburg burials now are restricted to those veterans whose next of kin already have designated Gettysburg as their choice and to veterans whose relatives have received questionnaires listing Gettysburg as available.

He said, according to the Associated Press, that the limit of 600 was arrived at in this way:

10 INJURED IN FOUR ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Ten persons were injured in four accidents on Adams county highways over the week-end.

State police reported six injured in a crash 500 feet north of Abbotstown at 6:45 o'clock Sunday evening when cars driven by Clark J. Parr, 55, Hanover R. 2, Robert Henry Mummert, Hanover, and Edward Fuhrman, 37, Hanover R. 3, collided.

Police said Parr was driving south toward Abbotstown when Fuhrman attempted to pass and was hit by the Mummert vehicle, which was headed north.

The Fuhrman station wagon, after being hit by the Mummert car, smashed into the Parr vehicle and then turned over two times. There were ten persons in the station wagon.

4 In Hospital

Two of the six, Robert Schuchart, 12, Hanover, who suffered a laceration of the forearm and Michael Fuhrman, 5, Hanover, who suffered a laceration of the left leg, were treated at the Hanover hospital.

The other four are still patients at the Hanover hospital. They were: Edward Fuhrman, 37, Hanover, who has a broken right arm, dislocated elbow and bruises; Rudolph Fuhrman, 3, same address as Edward Fuhrman, who has a possible fractured skull, and brush burns; Barbara Fuhrman, 7, same address, multiple brush burns and bruises and Joan Schuchart, 10, Hanover, lacerations of the lip, severe lacerations of the left eye which was gouged out, and possible skull injuries.

Three persons were injured when cars operated by J. B. Zimmerman, 72, 7 Hanover street, and Norman A. Rager, 31, Biglerville R. 2, collided five miles east of Gettysburg on the Fairfield road at an intersection with a legislative route at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Police said that Zimmerman drove out of the legislative route into the path of the Rager car. Damage totaled $375.

Others Injured

Mrs. J. B. Zimmerman, 66, suffered a cut on the forehead and leg bruises and Harold Flickinger, 7, Littlestown R. 2, a passenger in the Zimmerman car, suffered a cut lip. Both were treated by Dr. Raymond F. Sheely here. Mrs. Norman Rager, 28, suffered a deep laceration over the right eye and leg bruises. She was treated at the Warner hospital here.

Richard J. Reese, Hanover, suffered abrasions of the left elbow and lacerations of the face when his car overturned one-half mile east of Littlestown at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. State police said Reese failed to negotiate a turn and his car hit an embankment. Dr. Donald Coover treated the man's injuries.

Another accident occurred one mile north of Cross Keys on the York Springs road Sunday evening at 6:50 o'clock. State police said that a car driven by Walter Reindollar, 37, Hanover R. 4, drove out of a private drive and that Charles Hagerman, 45, McSherrystown, driving on the main road, attempted to pass Reindollar on the right, but side-swiped the vehicle. Damage totaled $30.

Plan Extra Hours For Registration

The office of the county election board in the court house will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight in addition to regular day-time office hours for the registration of voters.

Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk, said that today is the last day for persons eligible to vote in the general election November 4 to register.

YW MAY ADMIT COUNTY GIRLS 12-YEARS OLD

Admission of girls 12 years of age and older to membership in the local YWCA is proposed under a new membership status plan explained at an open meeting at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the "Y" by Mrs. Charles Ogden, membership chairman.

At present members are required to be 18 years of age or older. The proposed change gives younger girls all privileges except voting. Also, under the present system, Gettysburg, as in a number of other communities, requires no membership fee, only the signing of the "purpose" or pledge card. The proposed change in the constitution suggests that all members pay a fee, with only leaders being asked to sign the pledge. The fee proposed is $1.50 for adults, 17 years or older, and 50 cents for those under 17. Fifty cents of the adult fee and 25 cents of the minor fee would be turned over to the national association.

Other Changes

A change in name was also suggested. The organization is now known as the YWCA of the U.S.A. The name proposed is the National Association of the YWCA of the U.S.A. National changes proposed include various reports to be turned in to the national association; dropping of the local organization from the national body if it fails to meet the national requirements for five years; election of one set of national officers to serve for three years, instead of officers elected every three years and a board of director elected every year.

More than 30 women attended the meeting to hear the proposed changes in the national constitution read. The changes will be presented at the eastern conference in Washington, D. C. October 15. They will then be discussed by a commission and presented to the national conference in 1949. Mrs. Richard A. Brown, Fairfield road, president of the local executive board, presided at Sunday night's meeting and read a report from the national president, Mrs. Grace Elliott, explaining the new problems and responsibilities to be met by the "international Christian women's movement."

514 Local Quota

Mrs. Floyd A. Carroll, world fellowship chairman, and vice president of the "Y" told of the reconstruction program being done on a round-the-world scale, similar to Missionary work in the churches. She told of the need for YWCA buildings.

Nude Couple Found Dead In Rear Seat Of Auto Parked In County Orchard, Sunday

J. Arthur "Pete" Kint, 37, Biglerville R. D., and Florence May Wilkinson, 38, Orrtanna R. 2, were found dead Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock on the Daniel Sheely farm, near Cashtown, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning. Both were in Kint's car.

Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist, who with Cpl. Jack Bartlett of the local state police, is conducting the investigation, said that Miss Wilkinson was wearing glasses, a wrist watch and shoes. Otherwise she was nude. Kint was said to have been nude except for his trousers, which were wrapped about his heels.

Kint's body was in an upright position, at one side of the rear seat. The woman's body was across Kint's, her feet against Kint's side of the car and her head against the other side of the seat.

Couple Believed Asphyxiated

The vehicle, parked some distance from the Sheely home in the orchards, was seen by Mr. Sheely about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. When he noticed that the car was still there at 12:30 o'clock Mr. Sheely went to investigate and found the bodies.

While death may have been caused by carbon monoxide, and that was said by the coroner to be a distinct possibility, no official cause of death was immediately recorded, pending further investigation. An examination conducted on Miss Wilkinson's body Sunday by Dr. C. Harold Johnson and Doctor Crist disclosed some alcohol in the stomach and blood was removed from the corpse. The blood was taken to Harrisburg today by Corporal Bartlett for analysis.

Ignition Switch On; Window Open

The engine of the car had stopped, the coroner said, although the ignition key in the vehicle was switched on. A rear window in the car was lowered several inches. There was gasoline in the tank of the machine. The coroner said the car was several years old. The fan on a heater in the car was turned on.

The couple was last seen Saturday night about 11 o'clock at a drinking establishment near Cashtown. Both were said to have had "some beer."

Miss Wilkinson, an orchard worker, was a daughter of Thomas Wilkinson, Lancaster, and Annie M. Bowmaster, Orrtanna R. 2. She is also survived by a son, Richard E. Cullison, Orrtanna R. 2.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Bender funeral home with the Rev. Amos Funk officiating. Interment in Flohr's cemetery. Friends may call at the Bender funeral home Tuesday evening.

Mr. Kint, a native of Adams county, was a son of James M. and Rosie B. (Currens) Kint, Biglerville R. D. He was a laborer and had been employed in factories and orchards in this county.

He was a member of the Gettysburg lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose.

GIVEN TERMS IN FEDERAL PRISON FOR CAR THEFT

Pleading guilty to information charging violation of the Dyer Act by transporting a stolen automobile from Mt. St. Mary's college to Waynesboro, last July 30, James Anthony Willis, 31, Emmitsburg, and Daniel Francis Shorb, 21, near St. Anthony's, were sentenced to serve three and a half years each in a federal penitentiary by U. S. District Judge William Coleman in Baltimore last Friday.

Willis and Shorb, who had been implicated in car thefts in the northern section of Frederick county, had been held in Baltimore for several weeks. U. S. Attorney Bernard J. Flynn presented information to permit the men to be tried without awaiting indictment by a federal grand jury.

State Trooper Kenneth Bond, who with FBI agents made the investigation that resulted in the arrest of the two men, said both admitted in court that they took the automobile of Harry C. Hewitt from the college campus and drove it to Waynesboro, where it was later found abandoned.

The sentences automatically have stebbed action on criminal proceedings here against both men. Willis was at liberty in $500 bond on a larceny charge when placed in federal jurisdiction. He was indicted by the September grand jury here.

Shorb was also under bond awaiting disposition of an appeal from a verdict and sentence given by Magistrate William J. Stoner at Thurmont. Shorb had appealed from a one year house of correction sentence for implication in the theft of a car near St. Anthony's several months ago.

Trooper Bond and the FBI agents were the chief witnesses at the hearing Friday.

ENGLAND WILL STAY LOYAL TO ROYAL FAMILY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The eagerness and affection with which England is preparing for the forthcoming royal wedding, despite the worries of a depression which is rocking the very foundations of the country's economy, speaks in no uncertain terms of the country's loyalty to the throne.

It also seems to give an answer in the negative to the much debated question of whether Britain is swinging toward Communism. Of course these are fast moving days, and smart prophets don't get categorical about the distant future, but observers in general find no present indication that John Bull is bent on anything more than moderate Socialism.

To Celebrate Wedding
Princess Elizabeth will have a wedding such as befits the girl who is expected one day to sit upon the throne. She and Lt. Philip Mountbatten, handsome prince of the Greek royal house, will be married in ancient Westminster Abbey, surrounded by the heritages of England's greatness. There will be a magnificent procession through London; a great reception; eight wedding cakes weighing 300 pounds or more each; many and wonderful wedding presents, and the whole country will be in fête.

However, in these hard times the wedding will lack the pomp and splendor of bygone days. Costs will be kept as low as possible. The princess will forego a trousseau, and we even find the august Lord Chamberlain announcing that gentlemen attending the wedding may wear ordinary lounge suits instead of the customary morning dress of long tails and striped trousers. Shade of Beau Brummell! Your correspondent has attended a couple of royal weddings in London, and they weren't like that.

Stand by Royalty
Thus due reference will be paid to slim pocketbooks. Still, the people on the whole don't want an out and out "austerity" wedding for their beloved princess. And the reason for this attitude is that the King and Queen and their children are looked upon as a part of the English family as a whole, comprising all classes. In war and in peace, royalty in modern times has marched with the "rank and file." It belongs among cherished traditions.

MAY RESTRICT MOVEMENTS OF RED REPORTERS

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—The State and Justice Departments may slap sharp restrictions on the activities of all foreign correspondents admitted to this country to report sessions of the United Nations Assembly for Communist publications, it was learned today.

Officials said a new official policy under discussion would apply generally the curbs imposed on Pierre Courtade, a writer for the Paris Communist daily L'Humanite.

Courtade arrived in New York last week. Before he was granted a passport visa to come to the United States he was required to pledge that he would: 1—Enter and leave by an Atlantic port; 2—Remain in New York city and the Long Island meeting places of the United Nations; 3—Depart when the Assembly session is completed, and 4—Engage in no subversive or propaganda activities nor agitate against the United States during his stay.

Aids Press Freedom

Prior to Courtade's arrival, several other foreign correspondents for the Communist press had been permitted to come to the United States temporarily to report on U.N. developments without such restrictions. Most were from countries in the Soviet orbit.

The pending proposal is to require that these visitors give the same pledges as Courtade. Officials noted there are correspondents at U.N. headquarters from Communist-dominated Yugoslavia and Poland, from a Greek Communist paper and from Soviet Russia itself. They said they did not know how many.

The Soviet citizens in this country all have diplomatic or official status and would not be affected.

Asked whether the new policy would conflict with this country's free press guarantees, a State Department official replied that on the contrary it would represent a gain for freedom of information.

MISUNDERSTANDING

When you come right down to it, we have to confess that most of our bitter words, and most of our unhappy thoughts, have their origin in misunderstanding. And back of almost all disputes, and even war itself, is this thing of misunderstanding.

There have been something like 2,000 separate meetings in connection with the recently organized United Nations—but what has been accomplished? This great idea was first called into being with the hope and prayer that it might bring about understanding among all nations—but how far away is such an understanding!

Russia seems to be the stumbling block. But any intelligent human being has an admiration for the Russian people. They are great people. They have enriched art, science, music, the theatre, and literature. Their form of government is their own affair, as our form is our affair, and we want no interference, but this should not prevent us from being friends, and seeking to help each other, thus blotting out all fear and assuring peace and happiness to the peoples of each country.

It is regrettable that there couldn't be an exchange of people between the countries. Preferably young people—students. Imagine how soon we could create a better understanding could, say, a thousand students be interchanged each year, and each given free rein to look about and learn of each country. All suspicion dismissed and freedom of movement guaranteed! Why should the terror of the atomic bomb hang over intelligent people?

How easy it is to understand another human being after all suspicion has been dismissed and his or her honesty and sincerity have been accepted at face value! It is unnatural to hate. It was never intended that we should fight each other—no matter what the provocation. We were put upon this globe to be friends, to work out a useful and happy existence—and to cooperate in friendly fashion with one another.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Mind on the Wing."

Just Folks

The Poet of the People
By EDGAR A. GUEST

Last night, still six years old, she said
Her prayer to God in Heaven,
But in her place when night had fled
There rose a miss of seven.

The lovely child of six had gone
And left us all forever.
Now charms of six we'd looked upon
Can be recovered never.

'Tis plain that, love them as we may,
Adore them all, and cherish,
Such glories are to pass away;
Within a year they perish.

Yet, lovelier graces she'll display
With every new day dawning,
She who was six but yesterday
Is seven years old this morning.

burg, Md., being thrown out. Both were badly bruised. Miss Clarke was at first supposed to be seriously injured, and Dr. Robert Horner was called in, but she speedily recovered from the shock, only sustaining some severe bruises.

Accident: Charles Henry Wolf, son of the clerk of the court, had his right arm broken and wrist dislocated on Monday, 23rd inst., by a fall from a hickory tree, while nutting along Rock Creek, on the alms house property. J. W. C. O'Neal attended.

The Fair: The Agricultural Exhibition was in progress the past week, but the crowded state of our columns precludes special notice to-day. The attendance on Tuesday was not large, but on Wednesday the grounds were crowded.—The display of products, stock, &c., was very large.

Sales.—On Friday and Saturday the Executors of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, dec'd., sold a portion of the Timber land belonging to said estate near Fountaindale and Fairfield. Lots were bought by the following persons: George Sourbaugh, Henry Yingling, Alexander Hamilton (2), Charles Bushman, Henry Herring, John Hoffman, Daniel King (2), Joseph Scott (2), John Trostle, Adam Butt, Isaac Proutz, Jacob Musselman (2), J. G. Weikert, Henry H. Wintrode (3), Joseph Spangler, John Sanders, Daniel Woodring, Peter Dick, Anthony Sanders, Christian Frey, and James Sanders. The highest price paid per acre was $50.

J. A. H. Rether has purchased the house and lot of Hezekiah Hoffman, deceased, in Middletown, this county at $815.

The house and 10 acres of John Walter, deceased, in Butler township, has been purchased by Mrs. Maria Lehard, at $1,525.

U.S. fire losses in 1946 totalled $4,617,700.

MORE ABOUT PEACH TREE BORERS

The large borer that inhabits peach tree roots and the trunk base should be combated before cool weather arrives. The recommended date in this latitude is between September 20 and October 5, with slight variations according to particular regions and prevailing weather. In the last few days many readers have written the editor asking more information about the newer ethylene dichloride treatment for killing the large borer. Here are a few condensed suggestions:

Ethylene dichloride is a colorless liquid with an odor resembling that of chloroform. It turns to vapor at ordinary temperatures and the vapor being heavier than air, effects are quite rapid when the chemical is applied around peach trees infested by the large borer. If purchased in its original form, ethylene dichloride must be prepared into a stock solution with potash fish-oil soap and this stock solution later diluted to fit the various ages of peach trees. Some farm supply dealers now carry commercially prepared emulsions with directions for dilution printed on the container.

If the chemical is prepared at home the stock emulsion is formed by mixing 9 parts (by volume) of ethylene dichloride in a solution of 1 part potash fish-oil soap in 8 parts water. Do not employ heat in making this emulsion. Also, mix outdoors where danger of breathing the fumes is minimized. Keep fires away from the chemical and fumes.

After the chemical is added to the soap solution the mixture should be vigorously pumped into another container to form a smooth emulsion.

If prepared by stirring and not pumping, the ethylene dichloride is first added a little at a time to the potash fish-oil soap and the two then mixed thoroughly. Then the water is added slowly with constant stirring. In either method the goal is a smooth emulsion.

To use this stock emulsion for killing peach tree borers, dilute it according to tree age as follows:

For tree 4 years old and older, use 1 part stock solution with 1½ parts water.
For trees 2 to 3 years old, use 3 parts stock with 7 parts water.
For trees 1 year old, use 1½ parts stock with 8½ parts water.

Then again, the amount of the diluted solution per tree is determined by the tree's age. In general one-half pint of the diluted emulsion is sufficient to treat trees 3 years old and older, although unusually large trees may require a little more. Two-year old trees should have about one-fourth pint and 1 year old trees only one-eighth pint.

If the soil is quite hard around the base of infested trees, it should be loosened. If the surface slopes away from the trunk, thereby likely to cause the solution to soak away

FALL IS TIME FOR PLANTING OF EVERGREENS

This is a desirable time of year to plant or transplant evergreen trees. Top growth has about stopped, but trees moved now will have time to start new roots and become partly established in their new location before freezing weather arrives, writes Henry B. Aul in New York Herald Tribune. Top growth that has been made during season is hardened, and if digging, moving and planting operations are handled properly will be retained unwilted he says.

Generally speaking, if evergreens and other plants can be kept from wilting during transplanting and for a few weeks thereafter they will continue to grow unchecked. The soil around evergreens about to be dug should be moist but not wet. Plants are dug with a ball of earth held around the roots by a burlap covering to prevent the roots and the top from becoming dry while the plant is being moved. Adequate water is given at planting time and every ten days or two weeks until the ground freezes. A good rain from the base and larger portions of the roots, the soil should be slightly cupped toward the trunk. Soil heaped over the applied chemical and firmed in the form of a cone around the trunk base prevents fumes from escaping.

counts as one watering.
Dig the hole in which the tree is to be planted wide and deep enough to permit a two to three inch layer of top soil under the root ball and at least as much around the sides. The tree is set at the same depth or slightly deeper than it stood in the nursery. Less than top-grade planting soil should have dehydrated manure or peat moss and bone meal mixed with it before it is used for planting.

CURT SIMMONS BEATS GIANTS

Philadelphia, Sept. 29 (AP)—Curt Simmons has convinced Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies that he's ready for that major league baseball career.

The highly-publicized 18-year-old southpaw was given a chance to show his stuff yesterday on the last day of the baseball season and he handcuuffed those home run specialists—the New York Giants—with five hits and struck out nine to win, 3 to 1.

With a curve that broke like a jug handle, young Curt would not have been scored upon except for a brief streak of wildness after two were out in the ninth inning. He walked two men and pinchhitter Buddy Blattner drove a run-scoring single to left.

The Phillies purchased Simmons after he finished high school and sent him to their Class B Wilmington club. There his pitching was a big factor in bringing Wilmington the Interstate league playoff title.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—Now that Billy Herman has been given the bounce, wonder who will be the next major league manager to get it?

There have been rumors about Steve O'Neill and Eddie Dyer being in danger; Joe Cronin moving up to the front office and Lou Boudreau agreeing to disagree with boss Bill Veeck, but no definite word so far. Brooklyn, of course, has its Shotton vs. Durocher argument and if Muddy Ruel can stand another season with the St. Louis Browns, he has more endurance than you'd think.

Look for the Phillies to get very tough in another year or two when their farms really begin to produce. They won pennants and/or playoffs in Utica, Terre Haute, Vandergrift, Selma, Wilmington, Schenectady and Carbondale this year. Next season they'll have a triple-A club under a working agreement with Toronto and Eddie Sawyer likely will be the manager.

OH, BROTHER

Josh Cody, Temple line coach, argues that his center, Tommy Skladany, will be the second All-America footballer from that famous family. Brother Joe made it at end for Pitt in 1933. . . Two other brothers have won varsity letters—at Pitt and V. M. I.—and two more now are attending Temple. Eddie, a minor league ball player, isn't eligible for football and "Porky" is a freshman. . . Duke can field one brother combination, Carl and Seth Perkins, both centers, and has four athletes whose older brothers were Blue Devils. . . St. Bonaventure put on the best dual show against St. Vincent last week—Burt and George Hayes at right tackle and end and Glenn and Leo Haggerty at the halfback posts.

MONDAY MATINEE

Auburn's brilliant halfback, Travis Tidwell, may not play any more football this fall. He suffered a broken ankle and a sprain on one play in baseball last spring and played only 60 seconds against Mississippi Southern Friday night. He won't worry over the loss of a year of eligibility, either, because he's looking for pro contracts as soon as possible. . . Lamesa, Texas, is claiming the title of "biggest little city in baseball" after drawing 66,124 cash customers with a fourth-place club. The town's population is about 8,000, or one eighth the attendance total. Twin Falls, Idaho, only outdrew its population about 6½ times. . . Virginia Tech has come up with Hallback Bruce Fisher, whose dad is high school coach at Bedford, Pa., although Army and Yale also were after the kid. Coach Jimmy Kitts calls Bruce the best passer he ever has seen.

Scholastic Races Run True To Form

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 (AP)—The scholastic football races across Pennsylvania are running true to form as the teams turn in October, with each section having its favorite for top honors in 1947.

In the west the New Kensington Tigers, defending champions in the WPIAL are still unbeaten, but face formidable opposition from Brownsville, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, New Castle, and Har-Barck to name a few of the strong contenders.

Brownsville eliminated Charleroi from the title race, 6-0; New Castle jolted Sharon, 13-0, and Har-Barck crushed Butler, 38-12 while New Kensington was winning an exhibition tilt from St. George, 45-0.

Tyrone In West

In the Western conference it is still Tyrone against the field, with Adams township and Westmont forging nearer the front over the past week-end. Tyrone won an exhibition game from Altoona Catholic, 39-0; Adams township got past Conemaugh high, 7-6; while Westmont, with Johnny Hipp leading the attack, turned aside Bedford,

METHODIST BD. BLASTS HALSEY FOR STATEMENT

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Methodist Board of Temperance let loose a broadside at Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey today for saying that "as a general rule, I never trust a fighting man who doesn't smoke or drink."

The board retorted that drinking makes men fight "in thousands of saloons every day, but we have never known it to make anyone fight well."

And if Halsey carried bourbon for his carrier pilots in the Pacific when he was Third Fleet commander, the board declared, he was guilty of an "astounding breach of naval discipline."

"No Comment"

Halsey, whose reflection on liquor appeared in a recent series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post, didn't even swing a gun turret when reporters found him in San Francisco and told him what the board was saying. His answer was "no comment."

The board's attack filled six columns of its newspaper-sized publication "The Clipper."

"Many of the greatest military men the world has produced have been notably abstemious," the article said, naming Robert E. Lee, Jeb Stuart, Stonewall Jackson, Sergeant Alvin York and Jimmy Doolittle. "Alcohol," it added, "is a deadly menace to the country's safety whether it is in the brain of admiral, general, or diplomat."

The board quoted Lt. Cmdr. J. Bryan III, Halsey's collaborator in the magazine series, as saying of the now-retired admiral:

"Occasionally he takes a beer or a martini, but his staple drink is Scotch whiskey and plain water. He has said, 'there are exceptions, of course, but as a general rule, I never trust a fighting man who doesn't smoke or drink.'"

"His favorite toast is: 'I've drunk your health in company; I've drunk your health alone; I've drunk your health so many times, I've near ruined my own.'"

In another installment, Halsey wrote that "to a man who has just had a tense, hazardous flight or a wet watch, there is no substitute for a tot of sound spirits."

Accordingly, he said, he obtained 100 gallons of whiskey for his fliers. "I don't remember," he wrote, "if it ever was approved officially."

SAYS JEWS CAN HANDLE SELVES

Jerusalem, Sept. 29 (AP)—Confidence in the ability of Palestine Jews to take care of themselves should the British pull out was reflected today in a Zionist leader's declaration that his people are "both willing and able to implement settlement" of the Holy Land problem by establishment of a sovereign Jewish state.

David Ben-Gurion, head of the Jewish agency Executive and chief political spokesman for Palestine Jewry, made the declaration yesterday in commenting upon Britain's decision to surrender her Holy Land mandate—announced Friday to the United Nations.

In affirming the Jews' readiness to work out for themselves the problem of assuming statehood, Ben-Gurion asserted that they would make every effort to achieve co-operation with the Arabs, but he added firmly: "It is now clearer than ever that there can be no settlement nor can Palestine become really independent unless a Jewish state is established."

Ben-Gurion's statement came as the United Nations' special committee on Palestine, meeting in New York, prepared to hear Arab arguments against its proposals for partitioning the Holy Land. Jamal Hussein, 55-year-old nephew of the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, was listed as the first speaker.

At the same time an Arab spokesman in Baghdad called upon the Arab states to take "decisive action to save Palestine."

Woman Kills Girl, 17, Turns Gun On Self

Williamstown, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—Mrs. Ella Kuhn, 49, killed her 17-year-old daughter, Janice, and then took her own life with two blasts from a shotgun, Coroner Clarence Bowersox reported.

Bowersox issued certificates of murder and suicide after the bodies of Mrs. Kuhn and Janice were found in the basement of their farm-house seven miles east of this Gloucester county community.

Sgt. George Probert of New Jersey state police said Mrs. Kuhn had been in poor health for the last three months. The mother killed herself by pulling the shotgun trigger with the aid of a 12-inch ruler, Probert said, as she sat on a stool. The bodies were discovered by the woman's husband, Joseph H. Kuhn, a turkey breeder.

In 1946 more homes in the United States were destroyed by fire than exist in Nebraska.

Back In Business To Aid Customers

DuBois, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—The grocery business of 78-year-old Charles Mike—sold out a year ago when Mike retired—is open under the old name again because "I want to divide my profits with my old customers."

Mike, whose bristling mustache grew white during his 60 years behind the counter, retired because he felt he was too old. He built himself a new house but when the house was finished time began to hang heavy on his hands.

Saturday night Mike re-entered the grocery business in a small room next door to the old store. And the price tags placed on the shelves brought a growing line of customers to his door:

Fresh eggs—50 cents a dozen; but—75 cents a pound; bread—12 cents; cold meats—45 cents a pound. Local stores, meanwhile were selling eggs for 85 cents a dozen, butter at 90 cents, bread at 15 cents and cold meats at 75 cents.

"I feel like a free man again," Mike said. "All that time I was retired I felt like I was in jail. I want to divide my profits with my old customers. A penny for me and a penny for them. I want to help everybody."

Mike said he plans to add fresh meat to his shelves this week and the same price reductions will prevail.

State Is Fifth On Public Works Awards

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania received $72,878,000 in local public works contract awards in the first six months of 1947, compared with $39,494,000 for the same period of last year, the federal works agency reported.

Pennsylvania thus was one of the five leading states in public works grants, combining with New York, California, Texas and Illinois to receive 38 per cent of the national total.

Highway construction contracts awarded in the first seven months of 1947 totaled $60,329,000, the agency said. Throughout the nation, state and local public works construction reached nearly a $2,000,000-a-day pace in the first half of this year.

Quadruplets Born To English Family

Bradford, England, Sept. 29 (AP)—Quadruplet girls were born last night to Mrs. Eileen Horner, wife of Frank Horner, a baker, at St. Luke's hospital, and all were reported thriving today on a diet of glucose and water administered by "penholder" tubes.

The smallest girl weighs one pound, 13 ounces; another weighs one pound, 15 ounces, and their two sisters weigh two pounds, seven ounces. The Horners have two other children.

VAST DAMAGE, FIREMEN HURT IN PIER BLAZE

New York, Sept. 29 (AP)—A blaze that spread like a forest fire through the timber supports of a Grace Line pier was brought under control early today after causing damage estimated by fire officials at more than $5,000,000.

Fifty firemen suffered minor injuries. Two of them were aboard one of the six fireboats which, aided by six tugs, continued to direct streams of water onto the 825-foot pier 11 hours after the blaze was discovered. Nearly 80 pieces of fire equipment also were called to fight the stubborn blaze on the north river waterfront.

Seek Cause of Fire

The fire was discovered under pier 57 and spread landward to a large structure connecting that pier with pier 58, along which the Grace Line Santa Rita was berthed.

When the flames threatened pier 58, tugs pushed the Santa Rita, scheduled to sail late today for South America, into the midstream channel. The Santa Rosa sailed Saturday from pier 57.

Assistant Chief Fire Marshal Martin Scott said that all persons who had worked on the pier Saturday or Sunday would be questioned in an effort to determine the cause of the fire.

May Burn for Days

Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle said that 700 or 800 bales of cotton caught fire in the second story of the shed of pier 57. Though under control, the fire "may go on for days," he said.

Smoke seeping up from the underpinning was noticed by a pier guard who turned in the first alarm. While fireboats turned their streams under the pier, six crews of firemen equipped with pneumatic drills broke through the concrete pier floor to get more water on the blaze.

Dog Uncovers Body Of Week-Old Babe

Camden, N. J., Sept. 29 (AP)—The curiosity of a dog digging into a pile of grass cuttings in an alleyway led to the discovery of the body of a week-old baby girl who police said apparently had been bludgeoned to death.

Coroner Joseph Inglesby said the infant had been dead about a week when the body was discovered yesterday. Police immediately began attempting to establish the child's identity.

Fear Epidemic Of Cholera In Egypt

Cairo, Sept. 29 (AP)—Fear of a spreading cholera epidemic gripped the Mediterranean area today as travel was virtually cut off to and from Egypt, where 140 "suspected" cases of the dread disease have been reported to date. Eleven sufferers died yesterday.

British and American planes rushed vaccine and other medical supplies to the stricken country.

Princess Elizabeth Prepares To Wed

London, Sept. 29 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth—keeping secret the details of her wedding dress—came home from Balmoral castle in Scotland today to carry on preparations for her marriage on November 20 to Lt. Philip Mountbatten.

All the belles of Mayfair—and a lot of commercial dress manufacturers besides—were wondering about the details of the wedding gown, but neither the princess, nor the Buckingham palace press officer, nor royal dresser Norman Hartnell would do any talking.

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—Samuel G. Fetterman, 80, died yesterday from injuries sustained when he was struck a few hours earlier by an automobile while returning from a high school football game. He was senior partner of the Fetterman Engineering company and Cambria county surveyor.

growing junipers, arbovitae and yew, excellent for tall group accents, for background and framing purposes and hedges.

Large, broad-growing pines hemlock, spruce and fir are suitable where space permits for lawn specimens, free growing or pruned windbreaks and other background plantings to screen objectionable objects, or, spaced apart, to frame a desirable view or vista. The hemlock may be pruned to keep it within prescribed limits, but most of the other large growing kinds need plenty of space for their ultimate growth.

There are medium-tall broad-growing yew, arbovitae and false cypress (Chamaecyparis) to furnish background mass, substantial accents and broad-growing hedges. Lower-growing globular and dwarf conical forms for accents in beds and borders and on either side of gates, garden doorways and steps and for lower plants in front of taller ones, may be selected among the yew, arbovitae, juniper, false cypress and pine.

Medium-low, spreading types for placing in the foreground or group plantings, massing on banks and in solid beds for low foliage effects are available among the yew and junipers. There are even lower-growing, creeping junipers to use as ground covers on sloping and level sites, among rocks in the rock garden and edging evergreen groups.

Have Many Uses

Evergreen trees have many uses other than in the house foundation planting. They are capable of introducing dramatic form and color in whatever portion of the development they are used. In the accompanying illustration they complete a shelter and terrace corner. The tall, clipped hedge along the right side might be Hicks yew (Taxus media Hicks), Hatfield yew, upright Japanese yew (T. cuspidata capitata), Cannart's or one of the other columnar junipers, hemlock or pyramidal arbovitae. It provides desirable seclusion and background for the terrace.

ASPHYXIATED

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—John Kennedy, 32-year-old Johnstown truck driver for a towel supply company, was found dead yesterday in the cab of his truck, parked in the company garage. Deputy Coroner Andrew Stropko, issuing a verdict of accidental death by reason of "carbon monoxide asphyxiation," said Kennedy had been in the habit of falling asleep in the cab after finishing work.

false cypress (Chamaecyparis pisifera plumosa), pyramidal arbovitae (Thuja occidentalis pyramidalis) and Cannart's cedar (J. virginiana cannartii).

The two spreading evergreens in the foreground of the planting are, on the left, Pfitzer's juniper (J. chinensis pfitzeriana) and, next to the structure, dwarf spreading yew (Taxus cuspidata nana). The plant between them is Azalea hinodagiri, and the shrub in the middle ground is Viburnum carlesii. Picture this corner without the evergreens, and despite the attractiveness of the shelter, terrace and shade tree (red maple), it would be too open and uninteresting.

TRUCKER KILLED

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—Frank Federovich, 30, of Hollisopple, Pa., was killed when pinned underneath his coal truck on a country road about nine miles south of Johnstown Saturday night. State police said he lost control of the vehicle while it was descending a hill.

Gets Permit For Sightseeing Bus

Harrisburg, Sept. 29 — The Public Utility Commission has granted transportation rights to:

Paul W. Wolf, operating Wolf's Bus Line, York Springs, sight-seeing trips from Biglerville, York Springs, and Dillsburg to points throughout the State. An exception prohibits Wolf from transporting school children from Biglerville to points 50 miles distant.

SOME BACKING FOR M'GRATH

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP) — A sampling of Democratic national committee members lined up behind Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island today in the face of some expressed dissatisfaction with his apparent designation as the party's next chairman.

A campaign on behalf of U. S. District Judge James J. McGrath of Philadelphia for the chairmanship developed over the week-end following Robert E. Hannegan's announcement he will step down because of ill health.

But it ran head-on into a big obstacle: The tradition that a president, as titular leader of his party, has the right to choose his own chairman and that the committee ratifies his choice.

The pledge to campaign for McGrath when the committee meets here October 29 to select a new chairman came from John Cahill, Democratic state chairman for Massachusetts.

Cahill said he has no personal opposition to McGrath, whom he described as "an able, active and militant Democrat," but he declared:

"The party will need in its new national chairman a 24-hour-a-day man, one who will be able to travel from state to state, a full time man."

McGrath, who said he will "proceed on the theory that my task will be to reflect President Truman," announced he will retain his seat in the Senate and serve as party chairman without pay.

Edgar Thomas Hoyer, 67, died Sunday morning at 8:25 o'clock at his home, New Oxford R. 1, of complications. He had been in ill health for two years.

Born in Pennsylvania, a son of the late Jacob and Mary Dimond Hoyer, he was the last of a family of 11. Since 1902 he was a passenger conductor for the Pennsylvania railroad and was a member of the B. of R. T. Surviving are the widow, Mary E. Hoyer, two daughters, Mrs. George Sincley, Flushing, L. I., N. Y., and Anna D. Hoyer, at home, and one grandchild.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender funeral home with the Rev. Archie C. Rohrbach, New Oxford, officiating. Interment in the Hampton cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from noon today until the time of funeral.

Rotarians Of Two Lands Sing Together

Chester-Lee Street, England, Sept. 29 (AP) — The song "Corry Me Back to Old Virginia" has brought together the voices of Rotarians from this British community and those from the Clearfield, Pa., Rotary club.

The Rev. Edward Reeve of Clearfield took with him to England a recording of the song as sung by the Clearfield club's choir and Rotarians here joined in singing as the record was played.

The two clubs first contacted each other 16 years ago by mail and the Clearfield clergyman went to England to make the contact more personal.

Chapter 22

A milestone had been passed—the first lap of the journey had been made. Beads of perspiration clustered on Bruce's brow. This passing under the portal to the clinic was the first of a long series of doorways through which he must pass. If T'nette were here with him now he would squeeze her hands tightly, would look into her dear eyes, and say:

"You—and only you, have brought this all into being—"

It was amazing how quickly the newness wore off for some of them, how the long case history write-ups became nightmarish chores. It was here that the real weeding out began. A familiar face here today, pale, haunted eyes in deep sockets; tomorrow, gone. A voice in a long corridor inquiring of a hurrier-by:

"Where's Jim?"

A huddled bit of conversation, then:

"Oh, that's too bad."

That was early in December. The poinsettias were beginning to flame in thousands of southern California gardens. It was the season of Christmas; yet it was not the spirit of Christmas that sent Bruce over to Beverly Hills that very day to one of the exclusive shops on Wilshire Boulevard where he bought a flask of Bleu, T'nette's favorite perfume. He paid too high a price for the bauble, but it was something that had to be done.

In the back of his mind, it occurred to him T'nette might get the hint that Bruce wanted her to remain young and feminine and lovely. He couldn't come right out and tell her that—well, that he was surrounded with beauty every day; that a man was not necessarily being disloyal when he unconsciously compared his wife with other women passing by.

The Christiansens and what had happened to them haunted him. What had happened to them—whatever its cause—must absolutely not happen to T'nette and him.

And so, that evening, with — to T'nette — unwarranted urgency, he handed her the small beautifully wrapped gift. With trembling fingers T'nette teased the ribbons loose. "Bleu!" she murmured. "Oh, you shouldn't have!" She wept a bit; then her smile broke radiantly through. "And to think you remembered — so busy at the hospital, yet you didn't forget that today is my birthday!"

Of course, he could not tell her he had forgotten completely that it was her birthday. And he felt guiltier than ever; and angry, too. At her and at himself — but most of all at Karen Thayer, and for not much of any reason at all.

BEATTY DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

AP Newsfeatures

Bellefonte, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP) — Johna Elwood Beatty, 49-year-old Harrisburg, Pa., steelworker, was electrocuted early today for the murder of his estranged wife, insisting to the last minute that "I have nothing to worry about — I know the Governor will give me a reprieve."

No reprieve arrived, however, from the office of Governor James H. Duff as Beatty walked to the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary at 12:31 a. m. (EST). He was pronounced dead three and a half minutes later.

Beatty—the first of six convicted slayers on the state's execution list for the next 30 days—was convicted of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his 35-year-old waitress wife, Carrie, in a Harrisburg restaurant last December 4.

William Paul Byron, 40, and Frederick Moyer, 25, are slated to die in the electric chair October 6 for the fatal shooting of a bystander in a gasoline station holdup at Folsom, Pa., on July 13, 1946.

October 20 has been set for the execution of Mike Bubba for the slaying of Robert Fish in March, 1946, and William Chavis, Philadelphia negro, who has appealed his death sentence to the U. S. Supreme Court. The sixth man is Lawrence Brown, 19-year-old negro convicted of murder in the hammer slaying of a Philadelphia bookbinder.

That was early in December. The poinsettias were beginning to flame in thousands of southern California gardens. It was the season of Christmas; yet it was not the spirit of Christmas that sent Bruce over to Beverly Hills that very day to one of the exclusive shops on Wilshire Boulevard where he bought a flask of Bleu, T'nette's favorite perfume. An Alliance, Ohio, resident whose great, great uncle was James Gettys, founder of Gettysburg, paid her first visit to this town Saturday, accompanied by her husband and daughter.

"We have never been to Gettysburg before," Mrs. George J. Whitacre, the descendant of Mr. Gettys said, "but we have been very much interested in seeing the place from which my relatives came, and have planned this trip for a long time."

With Mr. and Mrs. Whitacre was their daughter, Lois, who has just graduated from Ohio State university at Columbus, Ohio.

"James Gettys was an uncle of my great grandmother, who was born in Gettysburg and lived here for several years," Mrs. Whitacre said. "My great grandmother moved away from Gettysburg when she was a young woman, and lived for many years in Steubenville. She died in 1897 at the age of 102."

Mr. and Mrs. Whitacre and their daughter toured the battlefield with J. A. Holtzworth, battlefield guide. Her grandmother's name was Cannon, and they were much interested in the Cannon grave markers adjoining the grave of James Gettys in Evergreen cemetery.

Saturday evening a camp fire program was held. First Class Scout Jack Augustine took color motion pictures of the encampment. The camera and film were donated by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Augustine. Potential members of the troop who took part in the program were John Thomas, Lee Steinhour and Tom Raffensperger. Visitors at Saturday night's campfire included Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weiland and son, Robert; the Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Carroll; Jack Cessna, Fred Strickhouser, Stewart Kleinfelder, and Mr. and Mrs. Augustine.
